Farm Sold.

Hughes and Swinebroad sold C B Flannery's farm, on Lexington pike, to Robert Speake at $80 per acre.

O. O. F. Grand Lodge.

Messrs Wes Zanone and John McGee are in Georgetown this week as delegates to the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows in session there.

Good Work at Creamery.

The Creamery is moving along nicely, and is proving a great benefit to the community. Last week they handled from 1,500 to 2,000 pounds of milk.

New Enterprise.

The Lancaster Paint & Wall Paper Co. is a new enterprise just established on Depot street. The business is in charge of Mr Cook, who has been doing considerable work in town. The company will keep in stock the latest designs in wall paper and the best of paints. Ring them up and get estimates on your work completed.

Fishing in Cumberland.

R L Elkin, Jno M Farra, E W Morrow and Jas A Beasley left in a wagon Tuesday to spend some days camping on the Cumberland river. Monk Gil went along to superintend the culinary department.

At Work in Mountains.

Rev Charles Connor Brown is engaged in a series of meetings in one of the mountain counties, where he will work for the next two weeks. There will be no services at the Presbyterian church next Sunday.

Bro Tindler Here Sunday.

Brother Tindler sends us the following, written from Toledo, Ohio: "Please announce that I will reach home Saturday and preach Sunday, both at home and New Antioch. Am having a fine trip."

A Card of Thanks.

We take this method of extending to the friends who came to our relief during our great bereavement our most sincere thanks. When the cold hand of death takes from us one we love, and friends come to extend sympathy and offer consolation, it proves true friendship, indeed. We certainly appreciate the many kind words and offers.

Married in Danville.

Mr Alvin Adkins, of Kirksville, and Miss Ethel Gastman, of Hyattsville, drove to Danville Wednesday and were married at the Gilcher hotel. The bride is a daughter of the late Isaac Gastman, and is a young lady of many attractions. The groom is a son of Mr Geo Adkinson and is a young man of fine prospects. The couple went South on a bridal tour.

The Boonesboro Celebration.

The Daughters of the Revolution, Boonesboro Chapter, have every reason to feel proud of the successful unveiling of the monument at Boonesboro, last Saturday. There were about four thousand people present, and a fine old fashioned Kentucky dinner was spread. Several splendid addresses were made, the principal one being by that grand, typical Kentucky gentleman, Col James W Caperton, of Richmond.

To Officiate in Atlanta.

The directors of the Atlanta Horse Show have asked our townsman, Mr W B Burton, to officiate as one of the judges at the exhibition to be given in that city next week. Mr Burton, who is one of the best judges of horses in the United States, has a wide reputation for his ability and fairness, and his services are sought after by leading horsemen everywhere. He will leave early Monday and will remain in the city for a week or more.

Gillispie

Mr William J Gillispie died at his home, near Paint Lick about eight o'clock Sunday night. He had been quite ill for some time, and his death was expected. He was in his eighty-third year, but, until the past few years was a man who enjoyed good health. He was one of the most widely known men in the county and very wealthy. His wife only preceded him to the grave by a few months. We are told that he made a will recently in which he left his estate, valued in neighborhood of $75,000, to a Catholic infirmary in Louisville. Funeral services were conducted by Rev Mr Frierson at the Lancaster Cemetery Tuesday at noon. Mr Gillispie had never united with a church.

To Ministers in Garrard.

This paper has at all times been willing and anxious to publish any notices or announcements for the churches, "without money and without price," but we cannot do so unless someone phones or tells us what they want. We never charge a penny for publishing anything for the betterment of mankind, so please, brethren, write out what you want, but, for goodness sake don't wait 'til we've locked the forms to tell us. Isn't that a fair proposition? If the churches want any printing done, this office will do the work at absolute cost of material and labor. If they want notices printed in the Central Record—it costs them not one penny. All we ask is that we are told of what is wanted, and so informed before we have "made up" and gone to press.

A Very Important Matter.

With a modern hotel in course of construction, and the assured fact that we will have an up-to-date opera house, we believe every voter in Garrard county will go to the polls and cast his ballot in favor of making a decent court house. More particularly one in which deeds, records, etc., will be safe and made in a fire-proof manner. When we told a gentleman that one of the vault doors had worn out and the contents absolutely unprotected from fire, he was astonished. If the people will examine the old hull they will see what folly and what error it will be to vote against spending a little money to put the house in good condition. This is not an effort to "beautify" Lancaster, but is a simple business proposition that no sane man will oppose if he will only go and inspect the property. If the house burns (it is a fire trap now) then the tax-payers will be called upon to dig up fifty or seventy five thousand dollars, while their lands would be greatly depreciated in value because no title could be made to it. Think of this before you cast your ballot.

GOOD SITE CHOSEN.

Odd Fellows Decide Upon the Romans & Elmore Lot, and Get Down to Business.

At meeting of Odd Fellows Monday night, it was decided to accept the very liberal and public spirited offer of Messrs Romans & Elmore, of sale of their lot, just below the hotel and bank (the Scott lot) for the sum of $1,200. This land is, as everybody knows, worth more money, but, as Messrs Romans & Elmore are heart and soul for anything for the betterment of the town, they made the price at less than they had been offered for it. In addition, each of them went down into his jeans and contributed $100 to help build the house. Now that the option on lot is in legal form the Odd Fellows have appointed a committee to see the citizens of Lancaster and ascertain what amount they are willing to contribute toward the building. This is not "handing around the hat," but, as the lodge has not enough ready cash to go to work, it was decided to see what could be done in this way. If property owners and people who have any town pride will only lend a little assistance, the house will be built right away, so The Record advises every one who loves Lancaster to consider the need of a house of public entertainment and see the committee and make a liberal contribution. The opera house is to cost $10,000, and will be modern in every respect. A lodge room will be made above of sufficient space to accommodate the growing or her. The lodge now owns a nice room but as the members are all public spirited and for push and progress, they have decided to do what they can to make Lancaster one of the best and most up-to-date towns in the state.

Ye editor is indebted to Mrs Sallie Fox for a basket of the finest sweet and Irish potatoes we have ever seen. They were the prize winners in Garrard, without doubt.

Gov. Beckham To Speak.

Chairman J R Mount has received notice that Gov J C W Beckham will speak in Lancaster, Oct 22. A large crowd will hear him, not only from the fact that he is a good speaker but because of his high office. Speaking will be in afternoon, due notice of which will appear in The Record.

An Up-To-Date Cafe

That very much of the trade from Lancaster has been going to our good city, Danville, is a fact that no sane man will dispute. Those people who go there to trade, and those who go to catch a train are painfully aware of the fact that a good "feed" has been hard to find in Little Britain. When we read, Saturday, that Col E W Lillard had opened a strictly up to date cafe, we were so delighted that we take up this space to say that he has a place where every dish served on the modern dining car, or progressive dining room is furnished. The price of every dish is given on the menu card, and the service prepared by a chef who ran on the famous Queen & Crescent dining car service for many years. The fact that you can now go to a central Kentucky town and get the same service given in Louisville and Cincinnati will be hailed with delight by the people living in this section. The chef knows all the latest fads in catering for weddings and receptions and the entire course to be served at any function can be arranged for, and the hostess has only to ring up the Lillard Cafe, tell what she wants served, and the rest will be attended to by them. If you are thinking of giving a reception, ring them up, and you will get figures on what you want served at less than you can prepare them by daily work over the cook stove. When in Danville, if you only want even a cup of coffee and a sandwich—these are ready for prompt service at low rates.

Profitable Meetings.

The meetings held by Garrard county farmers, at the court house last Thursday and Friday proved of inestimable value to those who attended, as many points were brought out that can be put into the every day work of the farmer and bring better results from the labor of the tillers of the soil. Addresses were made by J A Dobie, of Ohio, M F Johnson, W D Zinn, of West Virginia, and several local citizens, who told of benefits derived from years of experience. The attendance was not near so large as it should have been, as every farmer is vitally interested in the matters discussed. It was the intention of The Record's editor to attend each meeting and get a report of the proceedings, but, when we entered the court room and saw only "a corporal's guard" present, we concluded that if the farmers would not take advantage of the opportunity of hearing addresses made by men who had given their life-time to the study of these important matters, nothing we could print would be read. So we pass it up with the admonition that the farmers—the only class of citizens in the United States who have no organization—get together and study their interests. They are the bone and sinew of the country—the most independent people in the world—and, if they will stand together they will get the prices for their work they so richly deserve. We are opposed to "trusts" but we do advocate the meetings of every class of business men for the discussion of their respective interests and binding together for bringing to them what is justly due them.

Out of Sight.

"Out of sight, out of mind," is an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles too and chilblains disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by McRoberts Druggist. 25c.

To check a cold quickly, get from your druggist some little Candy Cold Tablets called Preventics. Druggists everywhere are now dispensing Preventics, for they are not only safe, but decidedly certain and prompt. Preventics contain no Quinine, no laxative nothing harsh nor sickening. Taken at the "sneeze stage," Preventics will prevent Pneumonia, Bronchitis, La Grippe, etc. Hence the name, Preventics. Good for feverish children. 45 Preventics, 25 cents. Trial boxes 5 cts. Sold by R E McRoberts.

A Howl From Georgia.

Upon a strict construction of the prohibition law which goes into effect in Georgia January 1st, 1908, it is held unlawful to administer wine at the communion table. This feature of the law is causing loud protests. Grand juries throughout the State have adopted the following resolutions:

"After January 1st, 1908, every minister who hands sacramental wine to his members will subject himself to as many indictments as there are members."

"Every deacon who hands the sacramental wine to the members of the church will subject himself to as many indictments as there are members."

"We petition the General Assembly of Georgia to make such amendments to the law as will allow the Christian people of this state to worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience without violating the laws of the state."

Famous Free-For-all Pacers at Lexington.

On Saturday, Oct 12, the fifth day of the Great Lexington Trot, one of the greatest lot of pacers ever seen together will start in the two-minute pace. The great Audubon Boy 1:50; Angus Pointer 2:04; Baron Grattan 2:03; Argot Boy 2:03; Morning Star 2:04; Rudy Kip 2:04; Hogwood Boy 2:04; are some of the stars eligible.

On the same day the Wilson Stake, with Reproaches 2:04; Hidalgo 2:04; Leland Onward 2:05; Major Mallow 2:06; Alice Pointer 2:05; etc is carded. Remember the dates, Oct 8 to 18, and don't miss it.

The Lewis Y. Leavell Society.

The Lewis Y Leavell Literary Society, of the Lancaster Graded School met for the first time on Friday, Oct 4th, with Allen D Henry, president, and Robert West, secretary. The program, consisting of recitations, music and debate was well carried out. Rice Fox read a highly instructive paper on "Some of Kentucky's Noted Horses." The debate on the question of a two cent "rail road rate" was ably discussed by Clinton Bastin and Robert West, in favor, and Dan Elkin and Roscoe Acton opposed. All taking part gave very instructive speeches, and we hope that some strong speakers will be developed by the society. Our next meeting will be held in the chapel at 2:45 o'clock p. m. Oct 18th.

Excellent Attraction.

The first attraction, under the auspices of the W C T U will be given at the Court House on Wednesday October 23rd, when Gilbert Eldridge, the gifted and popular impersonator, will appear in many humorous and pathetic representations. The Press speaks highly of him, all over the country. We clip from the Xenia (Ohio) Daily Gazette:—Every foot of available pace was taken, and Mr Eldridge was a whole show. His entertainment was a delightful one. The program being mostly of a humorous nature, caught the audience from the start. He was equally good in the female characters. Many season tickets are being sold at $1.50 for four attractions. Single reserved seats 50 cents, general admission 35 cents, children 25 cents, 2t

"Hello—Who is That?"

There are few things more aggravating than that of answering your phone saying, for instance, "This is John Jones, at the Up to date Grocery" and having calling-party say, "Hello, who is that?" When such a mush is thrown at this office, we feel like telling them to go where lovers of money and hypocrites abide, but Bastin would allow us to do so. When you answer a call, say "This is so-and-so." Then if calling party has as much sense as even a Lancaster man who would invest his money in home improvements, cuss words and maybe hard feelings will be saved. When you want a number, say "Four Three" if you want The Record office. If you want 1001, say "One-double O one." If you want ninety-nine, say "double nine." If you want 76, say "seven six," etc. Cut out the "please" and show your good manners toward the operator by being a gentleman or a lady when party at other end don't answer. But, for heaven's sake, don't ring up a party, and say, "Hello, who is this?" When you answer, say "This is John Smith." "Hello" don't mean anything but it is part of a word most people want to use when a fool takes up time needed for other purposes. Men who have to work like merchants, millers, coal dealers, livermen, printers, etc., have little time to talk over the phone so every minute must count. Men who work from 6 a. m. to nine to ten at night haven't time for idle talk—so if you want to "Hello, who is that," work it on those who have many hours each day to sit on their pants and discuss the shortcomings of their fellow-men.

His Dear Old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now eighty three years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W B Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children too, are greatly strengthened by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by R E McRoberts Druggist. 50c.

SHEEP GROWING.

Where They Can Be Raised to Best Advantage.

From the theoretical standpoint sheep can be successfully raised in every state of the American union and especially in the south. As a matter of fact, however, sheep are raised in flocks of thousands principally in the sand-hill states of the west, while most of the sheep kept in the humid states are in small flocks. The writer of this was talking with a sheep rancher from the west who much wanted to move his sheep breeding operations to the "sunny south." But after investigation he came to the conclusion that the plains of the west were better adapted to sheep raising than the south, on account of the smaller rainfall. Where the rainfall is considerable the sheep have to be provided with shelter and looked after more carefully than elsewhere. In the west the sheep can be allowed to stay out the year around. In the summer the rain is not constant enough to injure them, and in the winter the snow is not deep enough to cover the grass on which they feed.

This gives the advantage to the ranges, so far as the raising of large flocks of sheep is concerned; that is, the raising of sheep by the thousands. But in other parts of the country sheep can still be raised to great advantage, especially in the rougher sections of the country. In a recent trip through New England I noticed that in much of that country the pastures have grown up to brush to such an extent that they now produce less grass than they used to. I could not help thinking how admirably these pastures were adapted to sheep and how the sheep would have kept down the shrubs and brush. I expect to see the time when those hill-sides, now growing up to arboreal growths, will be covered with flocks of grazing sheep.

I do not expect to see sheep ever largely on the farms where the soil is a rich prairie loam and all cultivable, says a writer in Farmers' Review. Such land is adapted to more intensive farming than is indicated by the grazing of sheep. But the wild wastes that are increasing in some parts of the country can be made into rich sheep pastures by the sowing on them of grasses adapted to sheep pasture.

Where Curfew Should Ring.

The father who is chasing the dollar to the sacrifice of his boy must also answer for the worthlessness of his offspring. He not only chases the dollar all day, but must needs go out to his club at night and thereby deny the boy even this short time before retiring which might be made of great value to the boy.

As we stated in an article last week, we believe the greatest curse to this country to-day is not the bar-rooms and other temptations that lure the boy astray, but the great and growing deficiencies in home ties and home sacredness. Let the proper influence and guidance be thrown around the boy at home and there need not be so much fear from these others. And further still, there would be not so much demand for the curfew ordinances.—Blackstone Courier.
